REPORT.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, January 15, 1872. }

To His Excellency, HENRY P. BALDWIN,

Governor of the State of Michigan :

I have the honor herewith to submit my official report for the year 1871.

At the January term of the Supreme Court, 1870, the case of John Defoe, plaintiff in error, against The People, defendants in error, was argued by my clerk, W. N. Brown, Esq., and submitted. Defoe was charged in the Eaton Circuit with an assault with intent to commit rape. He was convicted of the assault. He alleged errors in the charge of the Court, and refusals to charge as requested. The Supreme Court found error in the charge, and awarded a new trial.

At the same term, the case of Edward S. Geary, plaintiff in error, against The People, defendants in error, was argued by W. N. Brown, Esq., and submitted. Geary was charged in the Eaton Circuit with an assault with intent to commit rape. He was convicted of the assault. He alleged errors in the charge, and refusals to charge. The Supreme Court reversed the judgment and ordered a new trial.

At the same term, the case of John Foley, Frederick Fleming, and Dennis Corkey, plaintiffs in error, against The People, defendants in error, was argued and submitted. They were charged with the crime of robbery, in the Recorder's Court of the city of Detroit, and convicted. The Supreme Court affirmed the judgment.

At the same term, the case of Michael Nolan, William Rogers, and Peter Nicaise, plaintiffs in error, against The People, defendants in error, was disposed of. The plaintiffs in error were charged with the crime of burglary, in the Recorder's Court of the city of Detroit. The Supreme Court found no error in the record.

At the April term of the Supreme Court, the case of Henry Stewart, plaintiff in error, against The People, defendants in error, was argued and submitted. The plaintiff in error was charged, in the Bay Circuit, with the crime of burglary, and was convicted. There were several errors alleged, and the Supreme Court reversed the judgment, on the ground that the Circuit Judge refused the defendant the right to poll the jury.

At the same term, the case of Sherburn Gaige, plaintiff in error, against The People, defendants in error, was submitted and the judgment reversed. The defendant was charged in the Hillsdale Circuit, under section 5790, compiled laws, with willfully injuring a mill-dam.

At the same term, the case of Howard C. Bristol, plaintiff in error, against The People, defendants in error, was submitted. Bristol was charged in the St. Clair Circuit with the crime of taking or enticing away from the lawful custody of her parents, a female child under the age of sixteen years, without her consent, and against the wishes of her parents, for the purpose of marriage, concubinage, or prostitution. The defendant was convicted, and the Supreme Court found no error in the record, and affirmed the judgment.

In my last report, the case of The People vs. Henry Johr and his sureties is referred to as having, by the rulings of the Circuit Judge, been decided against The People. Believing these rulings to be erroneous, I caused a bill of exceptions to be settled, and the errors alleged were argued and submitted at the April term. The Supreme Court sustained my view of the law, reversed the judgment, and ordered a new trial.

After the case was remitted to the Circuit, the Judge permitted the defendants to amend their pleadings by filing an affidavit denying the execution of the bond, and setting up, by the sureties, that when they signed the bond, Johr agreed to procure other names to the bond, and was not to deliver it until such names were signed to the bond.

The decision of the Supreme Court in Bay City vs. McCormick, decided at the October term, effectually disposed of this last dodge. The case was noticed for trial at the May term of the Circuit, to be held at Port Huron, but owing to the uncertainty as to where the county seat of St. Clair county really was, the notice was countermanded. It was noticed for trial at the September term, when the Court permitted the defendants to amend their plea as above stated, and the case went over the term.

It was again noticed for trial for the December term, when the defendant sureties moved for a continuance, upon the ground that Johr was sick, and that they expected to prove by him that the bond was never delivered to the State by the defendants, and that it was surreptitiously taken and delivered to the Auditor General. This showing was deemed sufficient by the Circuit Judge, and the cause was continued. I am in hopes that the case may be disposed of during the year; and yet, judging from the past, it is difficult to foresee what new phase human ingenuity may assume to delay the payment of an honest liability.

At the July term I recovered a judgment of ouster against the Ætna Live Stock, Fire, and Tornado Insurance Company of Oxford, Oakland county, upon an information in the nature of a quo warranto, filed for that purpose. The corporation, by the judgment of the Court, was ousted and altogether excluded from exercising any of the corporate rights, privileges, and franchises of an insurance company under the laws of this State, and the said company was dissolved.

At the same term, the case of William Schweitzer, plaintiff in error, against The People, defendants in error, was argued and submitted. The defendant was charged, in the Recorder's Court of Detroit, with the crime of larceny. The Supreme Court reversed the judgment because of the admission of improper evidence, and sent the case back for a new trial.

At this term the Supreme Court settled the county-seat question of St. Clair county, and determined that the action of the people and the board of supervisors in locating it at Port Huron was legal.

At the April term, Joseph Trombly of Bay City applied for an order on the Auditor General to show cause why a writ of mandamus should not issue to compel him to draw his warrant on the Treasury of the State for the sum of $6,722.50, which the relator claimed to be his due from the State under and by virtue of Act No. 119, laws of 1867, as amended by Act No. 15, laws of 1869.

These acts attempted to authorize the Governor of the State to seize and procure the condemnation of lands to be used by the United States for light-house purposes. The United States, being desirous to erect light-houses at the mouth of the Saginaw river, and not being able to purchase of the owners, applied to the Governor, under the above acts, to appoint a commission to seize and condemn them. The Governor appointed a commission of three gentlemen, who heard the proofs of the relator and the other parties who had an interest in the land. It was an ex parte proceeding, and neither the State nor the United States had any notice of the same. Under the proofs submitted, the commissioners awarded the sum of $17,496.84 for less than twelve acres of land, and which land was not only covered with water, but the United States had refused to give the owners for the same the sum of $2,500.

The above statutes were so carelessly framed that the relator seemed to have a legal claim against the State, notwithstanding the United States absolutely refused to take the land at the price fixed by the commissioners.

At the October term the Auditor General showed cause, and the questions involved were argued by myself and Hon. Geo. V. N. Lothrop on behalf of the State. The Court decided that the State had no power to authorize the condemnation of lands except for its own use, or that of its citizens, and therefore held said acts of the Legislature unconstitutional and void.

At the same term, the case of Joseph J. Strang, plaintiff in error, against The People, defendants in error, was argued and submitted. Strang was charged, in the Hillsdale Circuit, with the crime of rape, and was convicted and sentenced. He took the case to the Supreme Court on bill of exceptions, and alleged fifty-three errors. The Supreme Court failed to discover any error in the record, and affirmed the judgment.

At the same term, the case of Samuel and Abraham Williams, plaintiffs in error, against The People, defendants in error, was argued and submitted. Plaintiffs in error were charged, in the Recorder's Court of Detroit, with the crime of grand larceny, and were convicted. The proof disclosed the fact that the larceny was committed in New Orleans, and that the stolen money was brought into this State. This raised the same question involved in Morressy vs. The People, 11 Mich., 327. The Recorder held section 5797, Com. Laws, constitutional. The Court, Judge Campbell dissenting, affirmed the judgment of the Recorder in holding the statute constitutional, but reversed the judgment, because of the admission of improper testimony.

At the same term, the case of John M. Jones against The People was argued and submitted. This was a case made from Lapeer Circuit. Jones was charged with, and convicted of, an attempt to commit the crime of arson, with intent to defraud an insurance company. The decision of the Supreme Court was rendered at the January term, 1872, and will be found in my next report.

At the same term, the case of Charles Merrill, complainant, against the Auditor General and Rufus R. Morris, County Treasurer of Osceola county, defendants, was brought to a hearing. The case was commenced in the Circuit Court for the county of Osceola in chancery, by Merrill. On filing his bill, an injunction was issued to prevent the sale of the lands described therein for the taxes assessed for the year 1869. He alleged in his bill that he was a non-resident, and owned lands in several townships in the county, and that the supervisors of such townships fraudulently assessed them above their value, and relatively very much beyond the assessment of other property adjoining and of equal value, for the purpose of relieving resident tax-payers from their proportion of the taxes. The defendants demurred to the bill for want of equity. I argued the demurrer in the Circuit Court, and the Court overruled the demurrer and decreed a perpetual injunction against the collection of the tax. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court. The Court dismissed the bill with costs of both courts to the defendants. As the decision is one of considerable practical importance, I append an abstract of it, prepared by the Judge who delivered the opinion :

1. If the supervisor of a township, in making the assessment of property for taxation, shall fraudulently, and with a view to impose upon an individual more than his just proportion of the public burden of taxation, assess the property of such individual above its value, and relatively above the other assessments on his roll, the party aggrieved may have an injunction to restrain the collection of the excessive tax.

2. A property-owner seeking to enjoin the collection of taxes on the ground that the amount is excessive, should show by his bill, as near as may be practicable, what amount is just, and what excessive, and he should pay to the proper officer the amount which he concedes to be properly chargeable against him. In the case of a personal tax, a preliminary injunction should not be awarded in such case, except upon the terms that the whole amount in dispute be paid into court, or proper security given for its ultimate payment if it shall be decreed by the Court; and in any other case, the officer allowing an injunction has a discretion to require such security, which it may sometimes be proper he should exercise.

He who seeks equity must do equity; and he who seeks to enjoin the collection of an excessive tax, must be required, as a condition of relief, to pay such amount as is just.

3. Where, therefore, a bill was filed to restrain the collection of an excessive tax, and the Court found the tax to be excessive, and thereupon made a decree perpetually enjoining the collection not only of the amount that was excessive, but of the whole tax, it was held that the decree was wholly unwarranted, and it was thereupon reversed.

In my last report the case of The People vs. George W. Brown and sureties, is referred to. By an arrangement between the parties, this case was taken out of court and submitted to three arbitrators, viz: Hon. Daniel Striker, Hon. V. P. Collier, and Hon. Chas. A. Edmonds. I appeared for the State and submitted such proofs as were at my command, which consisted principally of the files and records of the Canal Board. After the proofs were closed on both sides the arbitrators took time for deliberation, and after a careful review of all the evidence offered, and a thorough examination of the files and records of the Canal Board, came to the conclusion that Brown is not indebted to the State on account of the making of said bond.

At the November term of the Circuit Court in chancery for the county of Genesee, I moved the case of The People, complainants, against George M. Dewey, Ellen Dewey, Edmund H. Hazelton, Clarinda B. Hazelton, George H. Hazelton, and George Bliss, defendants, to a final hearing on pleadings and proofs, and obtained a decree for the sum of $93,142.66. Defendant Bliss was a prior mortgagee, in no way connected with the transaction, and could be in no way affected by the result.

By joint resolution No. 33, laws of 1869, the claim of the State against George M. Dewey was referred to the Board of State Auditors, with power to settle with him, and take lands for the balance of the principal then due, at a reasonable price, if they should deem it for the best interests of the State so to do. Acting under the power thus conferred by the Legislature, the Board of State Auditors made a settlement with said Dewey, he paying in money and lands the balance due on the $50,000 principal, and directed me to execute the proper discharge. After said decree was entered, I executed to said Dewey a discharge from the same, and placed it on file in the cause.

The original mortgage was made January 4, 1860, for the payment of $50,000, and executed by Geo. M. Dewey, Edmund H. Hazelton, and Clarinda B. Hazelton, his wife. Since the execution thereof, Edmund H. and George H. Hazelton have each gone through bankruptcy, and certified copies of their discharge have been on file in said cause for several months past. The State authorities were duly notified of the pendency of such proceedings, and declined to present any claim to the commissioners on behalf of the State, preferring to retain the lien which the mortgage secured.

Hence, under the bankrupt laws, the State could only rely upon the land in the mortgage to make the money due from Edmund H. Hazelton to the State. No personal decree, therefore, was taken against him, and none could be against George H. Hazelton, as he had never signed the mortgage.

Edmund H. Hazelton having become possessed of the title of his assignee to all the lands transferred to him, and which were included in the mortgage, I arranged with him to take a quit-claim deed to the State of all the lands covered by the mortgage, and also eighty acres in Hillsdale county not included in it, except what was known as the "Hazelton homestead," situated in the city of Flint, and two or three other descriptions which were contracted at the time of the execution of the mortgage, and which were exempted from its operation. There was a mortgage upon the "homestead" at the time the mortgage was given to the State, which was regularly foreclosed by advertisement, and the time for redemption expired several years since. It will thus be seen that the State gets all the title Hazelton had to the lands in January, 1860, and all it could get if sold on the decree and bid in by it. There are in round numbers some 3300 acres covered by the deed, many descriptions of which are valuable for their timber, and others are reputed good farming lands. If put up at a forced sale the result would be that the State must bid them in, or they would be sold at a great sacrifice. I am firm in the conviction that in the end the State will not only realize the principal, but a large proportion, if not all, of the interest of this claim.

At all events, I am happy to congratulate you that this old and hackneyed claim is settled and closed, and will no longer haunt Executives and Legislatures, nor trouble my successors.

There have been, during the year, the usual number of suits commenced to enjoin the collection of taxes, and I have in each case sent the papers to the Prosecuting Attorney of the county to examine into the facts, and defend, when a defense would be of any avail.

There has been no falling off in the official correspondence of this office. It seems to be supposed by many that the Attorney General has not only the power, but is in duty bound, by virtue of his office, to settle, by an opinion, every controversy, real or imaginary, that may arise in the community. And it not unfrequently happens that his opinion is sought in matters purely civil, and in which the State has no concern. In many instances parties have agreed upon the facts, and constituted him an umpire to settle the law. The result is that very much time is consumed in looking up the law and writing opinions.

The several Prosecuting Attorneys of the State have given no occasion to suspect a want of zeal and ability in defending the interests of their respective counties. It has, however, come to my notice that in one or two instances they have permitted themselves to be retained and to be actively employed in procuring injunctions against the Auditor General and the County Treasurers to prevent the collection of taxes. This practice is in violation of positive law. I trust this suggestion will be sufficient to induce a change in that particular, and that it may not be necessary to name the persons offending.

By a change in the law, the reports of the several Prosecuting Attorneys are not to be made until the 31st day of December of each year. By this change it was hoped that we might approximate very nearly to the sum total of criminal business in the State in each year.

Blanks were early transmitted to all the Prosecuting Attorneys in the State upon which to make their reports to this office. No reports have been received from the counties of Chippewa, Mackinac, and Manitou. I have not been able to find any report from Chippewa county since it elected a Prosecuting Attorney. There is no excuse for this negligence. The statute (Sec. 397, Com. Laws) provides a penalty for such neglect. It also provides (Sec. 478) for the removal, by the Governor, of such county officers who have been guilty of willful or habitual neglect of duty.

Herewith find abstracts of such reports as have been received.

Yours respectfully,

DWIGHT MAY,

Attorney General.
